Oracle Corporation, founded in 1977 by Larry Ellison, is one of the world's largest enterprise technology companies, headquartered in Austin, Texas. Oracle is best known for its industry-leading relational database management system (RDBMS) — Oracle Database — which powers mission-critical applications for over 430,000 customers across 175 countries. Beyond databases, Oracle has evolved into a comprehensive cloud and enterprise platform trusted by Fortune 500 companies, governments, healthcare systems, and financial institutions worldwide.
